

Several How To's on one site

Posted by dan - 2011/03/11 17:02

Was browsing the web and found this great site with a lot of very pic heavy walk through's including engine drop, clutch change and coolant flush.

Just been going through it at work and it's an amazing site! He goes through coolant flushes, clutch changes, engine drops and tear downs, cam degreeing, breather installs and hose from hell replacing! Really is a top notch site for getting things done on your 2!

yep - brilliant site! I'm using that for my clutch change.

KC for the great find.

I found a site today that I never seen before which has a few helpful how to's, thought I'd post it up as it might come in useful to someone.
