a lot :laugh:

Big Turbo / wastegate / exhaust
Forged Engine
Upgraded fuel system
Upgraded ignition
Programmable ECU
Hours of mapping and tuning
Suspension upgrades
Drag wheels/tires
Car lightening

Basically you're not going to be able to use your car for realistic street driving afterwards so throw in the cost of a car also..

Would be fun though! :woohoo:

I don't honestly know. At a guess you would need more than 500bhp

Forgot to add a multi plate clutch to the list above also. Not to mention an experienced driver. You're not going to just sit in the seat and pull a 10second pass.
