

My new every day car

Posted by Redmk1 - 2011/10/10 16:54

Just bought a MR2 S as my every day car, hope to collect it tomorrow, will be able to keep the mk1 dry stored for the winter.

Very nice man, all the best with her!
Not sure if you know this already but check if the pre-cat has been taking out of her, if not take it out!

Tim, get yourself onto www.mr2roc.co.uk the Roadster owners club. Any specifics you need answers to they will be able to help, you could post an introduction thread too.

You can also tell Wabbitkilla that Spanky sent ya :yes: he's a decent, helpful and knowledgeable guy with a crackin' MK3

If you check the for sale section on MR2ROC there is quite often people selling their turbo kits and they'll go for a lot less than that.

I have Garry`s turbo :woohoo: , don`t think the mk3 would handle a turbo its very light compared to the mk1 or the mk2, would need put weight in it only there is no where to put anything in it, :laugh:
