

Hi Everybody!!!

Posted by Bobman - 2012/11/13 03:23

Hi
My names Rob i bought a rough 92' G-Limited a few weeks ago planning on restoring her to former glory

I have changed the oil and tidied up some wiring so far and want to change the coolant myself any advice for me...?

Will have pics up soon :)

Hi Rob and welcome to MR2.ie

Here is a walkthrough guide on the best way to post pictures to the site:

You may also find some useful articles under the 'How Two' section, or feel free to add some as you go through your restoration:

welcome where you from?

when i was doing the coolant i jacked up the back of the car best way to make sure the water goes to the front and just bleed the air out of it, theirs a valve in the frunk and a valve on the bottom of the radiator on the driver side, i think their is a few more under the car hope that helps ;) be very careful with it thou as the mr2s are harder to change the coolant than a normal car :)
