

Interesting MR2 drag blog - JDM

Posted by Quandry - 2010/02/09 20:20

Found this interesting site while surfing around. Some very interesting pics, engine builds, big turbo's, nitrous, standalone Power FC etc etc. Guy is putting some serious cash and effort in to his hobby.

Crazy JDM drag racer - we salute you!! :smash:

Here's some pics to wet the appetite but much more at the site, and yes that is over 2bar of boost! :doc:

Strange... They're working for me..

Try looking straight at the site then (it's worth it):

ok I mirrored the pics on to the mr2.ie server so hopefully they're tuning up for peeps now??

Something interesting I notice is that he seems to have two ecu's in the trunk? maybe he just uses the original as some kind of mounting bracket or maybe driving 8 injectors with two ecu's?

I'm still trying to figure out if he's running two ecu's at once. There are a few extra wires there but they seem to be going to the relays. I think they might be for his nitrous system though..

Here's some more JDM goodness I came across. Very interesting flared/semi widebodied guards he has there. Not sure on the look myself but certainly custom!
