

REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by st182r - 2013/05/12 20:16

i curently have a 93 rev 2 turbo. and im wondering about safe tuning without messing with the internals. first off ill have to get it dyno,d to see where im starting from. where can i get it dyno,d in the west? and roughly wats it cost?

it is more or less standard apart from d1 fuel regulator, dump valve, aftermarket intercooler, and full japspeed exhaust.

i dont want massive power yet so around 300hp would do. :laugh:

i know i have to get my turbo rebuilt. (oil seals). but once i get around to that the tuning will start :cheer:

any advice????

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by ricky2 - 2013/05/13 18:17

find yourself a ct20 turbo (the 1 fitted to the rev3+)you can get ct26's 2nd hand cheep on IMOC then a boost controller will find you about 265bhp with a standard ct26 and injectors

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by Quandry - 2013/05/14 08:51

I'd say you would want to check out the 3sgte power primer:
<http://www.mrcontrols.com/primers/power.htm>

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by julio - 2013/05/17 14:21

lol I got so lost reading that ha

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by Richie6 - 2014/07/13 22:07

Did you find a dyno company in the end? Looking for one myself to fit a blitz ECU and get it on the rollers.

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by st182r - 2014/07/13 23:09

Ended up selling that car in the end.
450 bhp one we have here was tuned and mapped by momentum motorsport in antrim.
Wouldnt be cheap but the know there stuff.
Check there website...

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by Richie6 - 2014/07/14 08:44

Cheers for that , i'll check it out

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by Japohara - 2014/07/14 10:17

A friend of mine has a rolling road here in Westmeath. He tunes my track car for me.

I will be putting up a thread for a dyno day again at some stage ... €50 a car ...

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by ricky2 - 2014/07/14 10:20

Richie6 wrote:

Did you find a dyno company in the end? Looking for one myself to fit a blitz ECU and get it on the rollers.

Keep us posted how it goes with the dyno run.

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by Richie6 - 2014/07/14 10:33

That sounds like a bargain right there do you have contact details for him ? I'll definitely get final figures up once the works done.

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by Japohara - 2014/07/16 00:04

Martin wallace " everyone calls him revs " 0852711471 ...

=====

Re: REV2 DYNO @ TUNING QUESTIONS

Posted by Richie6 - 2014/07/16 10:39

Nice One Japohara

=====