

My New Rev 3 GT-S T-Bar

Posted by mark_eire - 2014/02/09 23:12

Well the search is over, it started out looking for a cheapish G Limited, but I ended up biting the bullet and going all out for a very clean and original Rev 3 GT-S T-Bar!

Here it is in all it's glory, excuse me stealing some of the for sale picture's, really love it, it is less powerful than my Octavia vRS which is running at 324bhp, but this is much more fun to drive!

Congrats!

That's a beautiful car with Supercar performance for a fraction of the price. Hope to see it in some events coming up, including Cars & Coffee. Once again the more I see turbo, the more I want to own one again.

Seen this on backroads.ie

Looks really clean, keep it as original as possible and you'll have a future classic. :)

KC +1
