

Occasions starting issue

Posted by Fewery - 2014/03/14 19:32

Guys, I'm curious if anyone has the same issue. Car runs sweet as a nut, and during dry weather no issues at all, but if there has been a lot of rain it takes more than normal to start. I have changed the distributor and rotor, thinking it may have been cracked and letting in moisture but after a good spell of rain, same issue. :blink:

Anyone any ideas??

Thanks,

Liam.

Check the coil for cracks and corrosion or it could be the plug leads
