

Email issue

Hi gang, I am trying to send out a 'What's new MR2' email however something has gone askew with the server. I am working on it but just wanted to flag it here in case anyone receives the email two or more times by mistake.

Apologies in advance..

Hi guys,

I spoke to the hosting company about the What's New MR2 mail shot email. The new servers do not support bulk emails so I have had to setup an account with Mail Chimp. That is done now so hopefully you should see an email come through in the next short while with What's New MR2 - let me know if it turns up??

Regarding the thread notification, I may have inadvertantly disabled this when I was trying to troubleshoot what was wrong with the mail shot system. I have put the settings back the way they were and hopefully notifications will resume once again. Try it for a couple of hours and let me know how it goes?

cheers,
Geoff.
