cheers Ray, yeah I was delighted with the results. The lads down there seemed pretty impressed too :) I guess the problems were all in my head cause the car felt brilliant on the way home :cheer:

There was some debate about what Swagger's wing is:

http://mr2.ie/mr2/meets/apr2010/IMG_0212.JPG

I posted up the pic on mr2oc in the states and someone pointed out that it's a SARD rear wing. Details of the kit here:

Very rare JDM goodness. Good pickup Steve!

Nice work Dave, KC for the effort. The photos in your 'dawn shoot' video were that bit more dramatic, but I think that was due to the locations/timing..

that's awesome, another cracker there Dave :)

I particularly love the shot of spidey's car alone in the foggy deserted car park

Thanks for the great photos Mark!

I think next time we get an engine bay photo opportunity I might pull the TRD bar, as it makes it difficult to see the rest of the detail in the cam cover/bov etc, but this is certainly a flattering photo for the bar and overall engine bay. Great job and KC! :)
