

Suspension components for rev 3

Posted by Turlock - 2015/08/25 23:42

After getting my polybush on I've my old suspension bits sitting in a box.

The new components I got were complete with the polybushes already installed so pretty much just a bolt off/bolt on job.

So my old parts are sitting here, perfect for someone thinking of replacing their own bushes as they can do it in their own time and then just swap them across some afternoon.

I got a good deal on my bits so offering these up for free, for what its worth these aren't in bad condition and are tight enough with no issues on the last NCT.

Yeah still there, let me know when suits to collect. Try not to leave it weeks if you can, need to clear out a few bits and this box is sitting in the garage taking up space while I've a skip bag about to be collected outside :D
