http://www.mr2.ie/images/fbfiles/images/IMG_0380.jpg Sticking these pics up as a few have been asking, this is a real jap import supercharger, been dry garaged for years, complete car there, all panels in primer, there's even a spare MK1 there for extra parts, upholstery, looks rough, but body perfect, just years off dust on car, was restored to primer stage by a top panel beater, then left to sit in dry shed for years, if anyone interested in car as a project pm me.

Would love too, but money tight at moment, just got oldest son on road with a Toyota Corolla, if it's still there before the summer might take her on myself, it's a shame to see her just sitting there gathering dust.

What's missing from it Jock?

Would be a cracking project for somebody, I don't have the space at the moment otherwise I would be down to check it out.

Nothing missing, as far as I know, everything there, and a second MR2 MK1 is there just in case any spares needed, it's a car that is ready for spraying, no fillers or welding needed, as it's in 2-pack primer stage already

A mate of mine likes to restor old cars, I could ask him if he'd like an MR2 project. What price are you asking Jock?
