Not cheap, but this place may be able to help <https://www.hubcaps.org/mr2.html>

You probably know this already, here is the discontinued part number 42603-17090 or try this 42603 Type-C.

Just to confirm that from what I have found out, you are correct on the 60mm size.

Try posting on a few other MR2 sites in the wanted section, you might get lucky.

Sorry I can't be of more help, but I will let you know if I find one for sale.

Cheers had the part number but not that site - that is quite handy - must touch base with them and use them as Plan B

Thanks again I find most the american sites are only for the centre cap up to Rev 4 - if you go into the year of the rev5 no MR2s appear for selection.

Unfortunately they all share the same P/N. That hubcap place wont ship, trying to sweettalk them into it, otherwise I'll have to go through that an post site but reckon Ill hang on as its getting very expensive, very quickly!

Dosent the gen7 celica have similar rims with same centre caps?
No shortage of them celicas going around. you will probably buy a celica for the price of them caps from toyota dealer.

Unfortunately not - the MR2s are 60mm vs 54mm on Celica
